12.9 Zdania z wyrazami zaczynającymi się od: t, u, v, w, z
Część 3/9 Zdania 49da - 73eb – klucz

Uwaga: Poniższe angielskie zdania nie zawsze są jedynymi możliwymi tłumaczeniami polskich zdań z ćwiczeń. W nawiasach umieściliśmy alternatywne słowa lub amerykańskie odpowiedniki brytyjskich słów.

Ćwiczenie 1/1

zdania z czasownikami	zdania z rzeczownikami	zdania z przymiotnikami lub przysłówkami
	49da. For years the HJs have constantly repeated and promoted certain populist ideals until they have become widely acknowledged by many nations throughout the world. 49db. Theoretically, according to their vision, modern societies are to be based on: personal freedoms, like the freedom of speech and beliefs, protecting private property, a prosperous middle class which (that) cares about creating new jobs, everyone's right to education and a better life, eradicating poverty, observing human rights, democracy and the leaders elected by the majority of the nation. 49dc. Now the HJs don't want to allow an unreliable prankster to undermine their credibility and question the validity of their social theories. 49dd. Neither can they allow their ideological opponents to gain supporters. 49de. The HJs know that the most straightforward method of concealing an inconvenient fact is to camouflage it in a clever way. 49df. First, you should never mention the fact, second, you must cry out loud about other contentious issues which (that) arouse very strong emotions and divide people's	49ia. You want to marry the man because he says he loves you and I'm asking you if infidelity doesn't bother you or perhaps you regard yourself as a tradeable (tradable) commodity. 49ib. For if you look at the culture in which your boyfriend functions, you will easily notice that swapping women, or partners in a broad sense, is a sort of a trade mark of the surroundings in which he exists. 49ic. You have to take into account the fact that at some point he will abandon you or will offer you to his dear friend or an acquaintance as a kind of a trade-off deal with that person. 49id. If for any reason you accept such a transaction, he will have you humiliated and will gain his trade surplus over you. 49ie. Then you can expect that he will blame exclusively you for the fact and when a convenient circumstance occurs he will make good use of it to gain something for himself. 49if. Before you decide to marry the man remember, that whatever he does in his life, he is that sort of opinions. 49dg. Once the new subjects captivate everybody's attention, people will completely forget that some other thing might matter to them. 49dh. It's best if the new issues serve HJs' interests well, in a broad sense of the word. 49di. They should also further improve already very positive public image of the HJs as selfless philanthropists who (that) care about the welfare and safety of others and the well-being of whole societies. 49dj. The HJs could initiate and all the time thoroughly inform the global society about the developments in the realization of their new, spectacular, multi-million dollar investment – a modernly designed rehabilitation clinic for the most dangerous sexual deviants who (that) have become rapists, murderers and serial killers. 49dk. The place could feature state-of-the-art medical equipment. 49dl. In a confined, efficiently isolated from the outside world space, well educated, highly trained and notably competent HJ specialists could cure the thugs in a well monitored, guarded by professional security personnel centre (center). 49dm. Ordinary, honest citizens should like the idea since they will be able to feel safe in their own homes. 49dn. The most ruthless felons who (that) have	a trader.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	committed the most outrageous crimes won't come to live next door but will be kept separately, so that they don't pose any immediate threat to a healthy society. 49ea. There is always a risk of falling into a serious trade deficit. 49eb. Therefore, if somebody tenders for a contract with you, it is wise to carry out a thorough investigation about that person. 49ec. Thanks to that you can select the most reliable and honest business partners and you can avoid signing a contract with a crook. 49ed. It is also sensible to send carefully chosen, well qualified and absolutely trusted representatives to the trade fairs. 49ee. Reasonable negotiators can save you a lot of trouble. 49ef. Professionals can prevent you from starting cooperation with untrustworthy people. 49eg. Some would love to lead you into the blind allay where you would get trapped forever. 49f. Tradesmen who (that) don't follow the current market trends may lose not only touch with their customers but also their vocational credibility. 49ga. Trading between the two countries has a very long tradition and history. 49gb. The international observers do not intend to lose track of how the cooperation will be developing in the future.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	49gc. They will keep close track of the steps taken by each side in order to reach the trade balance. 49h. Ask Adam. He is a mechanic by trade so he will probably be able to repair your tumble-dryer.
	50a. “Sharing the wafer and wishing each other all the best on Christmas Eve is a long-standing, meaningful and very beautiful tradition,” said the priest. 50ba. According to an official report, this is an ethnic group which (that) is proud of their unique culture. 50bb. Their members are determined to stick to their traditionalism, thanks to which they have gained their international fame and recognition. 50ca. The traditionalists understood perfectly well that they were unable to stop the course of history which (that) was soon to unfold in front of their eyes. 50cb. They also knew that they could facilitate the changes which (that) were going to happen and in this way they could become the persons who (that) played positive roles in the peaceful processes of the transformations. 50cc. In the past they have always adapted this traditionalistic approach and this strategy has never failed them before.
51aa. Usually the gang has realized their typical, three-stage plan of action unhindered.	51ba. The checkpoints may disturb the smooth flow of traffic but they are necessary and must operate effectively and flawlessly.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

51ab. First they ripped the victim and their family off their money, then they trafficked the would-be slave across the border and finally they left them at the mercy of the foreign human traffickers. 51ac. This time they have been successful in realizing only the first part of the standard three-segment scheme.	51bb. Deceitful criminals act in the area and the checkpoints allow to identify them correctly. 51ca. The widower got in touch with the traffickers and, to his astonishment, heard from them that his allegedly late wife is still alive. 51cb. He learnt from them that she had a fake USA visa. 51cc. The woman had presumably been smuggled abroad and sold to another gang for a few thousand dollars. 51da. A certain TV anchor stated that human trafficking was gradually becoming unprofitable and even dangerous for the criminals. 51db. The person pointed out that now the legislators should seriously take care of the problem. 51dc. They need to work out effective ways how to properly prosecute those officials who (that) had enabled the inhumane procedure of using people as slaves to thrive. 51e. Hundreds of vehicles got stuck in the traffic jam but Chris was on his bike and he could zigzag, therefore he was gradually moving forward. 51f. Thomas thought he would be given detailed instructions, but he only learnt that he was to follow the road signs and he should always stop at the traffic lights in order to wait for the green. 51g. If you park your car in a no-parking zone, a traffic warden will give you a ticket.
	52aa. Draw your own conclusions from this well	52c. „It would be tragic if you didn’t make good use publicized, long story with an allegedly happy ending. 52ab. It is actually a tragedy, as the admired hero eventually surrendered himself to the crafty masters of deceit – they succeeded in bribing him. 52ac. Will many other docile tragedians share his fate? 52ad. The devious frauds who (that) arrive with their seemingly attractive business proposals are ready to assist such conformists in their way. 52b. Let's hope the film director will keep breaking with tradition and will continue producing fantastic tragicomedies which (that) are full of surprises.	of the knowledge the volumes contain," Frank read in his great grandfather's testament.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

53aa. That vagrant may again try to steal something so he should be the primary target of the villagers' observations. They ought to trail him non-stop. 53ab. He must feel their breath on his neck. The victims of the previous thefts should be the first to pounce on him when he makes the slightest mistake. 53ac. There is always a chance that he can be caught red handed. 53ad. No such opportunity can be missed. The inhabitants should grab him with a pair of special iron tongs then. 53ae. The preventive troop will come at	53ba. "The trail the viper left on the muddy ground will soon disappear altogether," the forester firmly assured his nephew. 53bb. "Look, the wet soil is already slowly shifting and the surface of the ground will soon even," the uncle added. 53c. "As long as we have full control over that trailblazer and make it impossible for anyone else to follow in his footsteps, our dominant position remains unchallenged," the CEO assured the shareholders of the company. 53d. After the workers had unloaded the trailers with the building materials and stocked them at the site where the temple was supposed to be constructed, they all went to the stadium to watch the testimonial in which their favourite (favorite) journalists and politicians once. They will take him where he will not be able to steal anything.	were playing.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

54aa. Some strong-willed persons are motivated by the passion which (that) constrains their personal freedom. 54ab. They can train themselves to become anything they deem indispensable in order to remain faithful to their ideals and persistently struggle to meet their ends. 54ac. Their determination not to give up on their convictions pushes them to do whatever they believe is necessary to fulfill their life's mission.	54b. That passenger without a ticket tried to escape the ticket collector and is now travelling (traveling) on the roof of the train carriage. 54c. It started to rain and the man in white and black trainers who (that) is trotting along the valley has now hidden under the viaduct. 54d. An astute trainer first checks natural predispositions and reactions of a would-be professional by putting the individual in certain circumstances and observing how they react to taunting, different forms of abuse or other possibly harmful stimuli. 54ea. Through intense training the HJs will try to work out ways of suppressing their real emotions and concealing their true identity. 54eb. Being recognized is not in their interest at all now. 54fa. How can you stop me, man? You know this free world as well as I do since we both live in it. 54fb. Look at all these beautiful, aspiring trainee models in my waiting room. 54fc. Each of them hopes I will offer her a job opportunity in my agency. 54fd. Besides, doesn't your daughter and all her friends buy fashion magazines mainly to look at the pictures taken by me which (that) I publish there? 54fe. I am very handsomely paid for taking them. 54ff. Why should I not do	54g. To have experts with a trained eye you have to teach them first what details they must focus their attention to. 54h. The treacherous, stony, slippery and steep mountain trail is not for untrained hikers.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	what I do best, what I love doing and what earns me a comfortable living?
55aa. The couple's soft voices, charming smiles, gentle manners and tender assurances of good will were so soothing and convincing that they tranquillized the family. 55ab. First they revealed all their secrets to the strangers and then, in exchange for the promise to invest in the development of their firm, they voluntarily allowed the newcomers to run the workshop their forefathers had built. 55ac. Next they themselves became poorly paid and badly treated employees of the new owners of their former property.	55b. It's an advertising trick. They advise you to take a tranquillizer before watching the trailer simply to arouse your curiosity and encourage you to see the chosen scenes and the film itself. 55ca. If you earn enough to lead a relatively comfortable life and have spare cash to indulge in the pleasures of shopping and entertainment you might acquire a false sense of tranquility, convenience and security which the civilization gives you. 55cb. You may overlook the facts that an extremely severe winter, a nearby volcano or other uncontrollable forces of nature are still out there and can seriously threaten your careless lifestyle.	55da. "This tranquil individual doesn't at all look like someone who might ever blaze a trail," Olek thought with a relief and calmed down. 55db. So he continued chatting carelessly with an old acquaintance he completely accidentally met in a winter sports resort as they were riding up in a chair ski lift together.
56a. A person who (that) transcribes what is being said during a court trial mustn't make mistakes.	56b. If you take your time and read the transcript (transcription) of the interview you will much more thoroughly understand what the speakers actually meant. 56c. Whichever violin transcription of those piano pieces you take, they are equally perfect. 56d. English learners don't have to know how to interpret phonetic transcriptions of the words because they can hear how to pronounce them from the loudspeaker in their computer.
57a. Whooping cough is an infectious	57b. There are a few names of footballers on the transfer	57c. Logical thinking is one of the most transferable disease and it can be easily transferred from a sick person to a healthy one.	list but it is not known yet which players will be sold to other clubs.	skills as it allows you to quickly learn new science in a situation when you have to change your job.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

58a. You can further transform the formula.	58b. Is the transformation from state into private ownership always advantageous? 58c. Do you sell transformers here?
	59a. If this transit country requires a half-a-year quarantine for tortoises the tourist with his pet will have to choose a different travel route. 59ba. The fairy tale is about a transition of the main character. 59bb. First it is an ugly squid-like creature with a sharp, hot tongue and hooked, claw-like tentacles. 59bc. It thrives because it crushes and devours every small being it spots with its big, prominent, bulging eyes, whenever they get in its way. 59bd. The longer, however, it looks at its repulsive image in the mirror, which the intrepid, unaffected by its cruelty ecologists are firmly holding in front of it, the more decidedly it recognizes that it must change. 59be. A long, painful, fraught with many precarious situations process of transformations follows. 59bf. Finally, the monster becomes a friendly, harmless and benign mollusc-like entity.	59ca. “To raise” is a transitive verb. 59cb. In a sentence it refers to an object which follows it, like in: “The waitress raised the tray with the ordered dishes.” 59cc. In this sentence “the tray” is an object of the verb: ”raised”. 59da. “To rise” is an intransitive verb. 59db. It refers to the subject of the sentence, like in: “Victor rose, looked at his colleagues and asked them whether they should lift a trade embargo imposed on the country which (that) is not compliant with the international directives.” 59dc. In this sentence the verb “rose” refers to “Victor”, the word which (that) is the subject of the sentence. 59e. Roman bought himself a pair of high wellingtons (wellies/rubber boots) for the transitory period of heavy pre-spring rain. 59f. Before the amphibian became a toad it lived in a transitional form as a tadpole.
60a. Who will translate this novel into Mandarin?	60b. Some books don’t lose, but gain in translations. 60c. Our teacher says (that) electronic translators are no	60d. Wanda read this book translated into Ukrainian.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	good.
61a. Not only each inner circuit must transmit electricity exactly the way it has been designed but the whole integrated circuit has to work perfectly correctly.	61b. This year's festival has been a great success and thrice (three times) as many TV viewers have watched the live transmission of the award ceremony. 61c. After the thunderstorm the amateur radio telegraphists brought the transmitter inside and placed it on a tripod so that it could dry up.
62aa. The news that their newly born triplets had to be moved to the surgical ward traumatized the parents. 62ab. The doctors calmed them down explaining that the kids were being taken to another wing of the hospital only because there was better diagnostic equipment there.	62ba. The course will allow its participants to avoid any future trauma this common disease inevitably leads to. 62bb. Throughout it the students will be instructed about various forms of the addictive ailment. 62bc. They will also learn how to effectively block its transmission so that they don't become infected.	62c. The turbulent period in her life may have been traumatic but Sarah doesn't want to transmit any of her negative emotions to her children. 62d. The traumatized caller informed the firefighter that a swarm of termites invaded his terraced house and that they are building a mound in the middle of his living room.
63a. James was calm and self-contained. He knew he had chosen the best possible option how and at what speed he and his entire family were going to travel.	63b. Travelling (Traveling) on a wing of a glider may be toll-free and can be a lot of fun, but it's only for the most audacious risk-takers. 63ca. The travellers (travelers) were enjoying the sightseeing tour very much because they had professional guides. 63cb. They introduced the guests to all the local attractions and competently informed the newcomers about the history, culture and other interesting facts the visitors wanted to get to know about. 63d. At the travel agency they told David that if he decided to go on vacation to that	63f. You can learn plenty of tricks from a much travelled (traveled) careerist who (that) has superb experience in successfully climbing up various corporate ladders. 63ga. Due to the risk involved, those who (that) are inclined to consider embarking on an untravelled (untraveled) path must first conduct a thorough private research. 63gb. First, through conclusive experiments, they have to assess their own morale and make sure they can absolutely trust their own instincts. 63gc. Then they have to country, they could offer him only a third-class hotel. 63e. When you have to travel a lot and light in order to make your living you need a very reliable travel agent.	identify those whom they can't take with them. 63gd. For, if they trust an untrustworthy individual they will have no other choice but to pay for that person's mistakes the same high price as the sinner themselves will pay.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

64aa. If you treasure someone's help, make it work for the right purposes, like counteracting crimes and all sorts of social ills. 64ab. For in the long term this will benefit all who (that) disapprove of deceitfulness and hypocrisy.	64b. If your guardians happen to have no aneasthetic (anesthetic) when your painful wound must be stitched, it may mean that you can constitute some sort of a treasure to them. 64ca. The junior league football team players had a break during their training session when under a dense thickset of ivy they discovered an old, granite tombstone. 64cb. Intrigued by their find they moved the stone and underneath they saw a simple metal box. 64cc. On its lid there was an engraved sign which (that) read: "If you are the person who (that) has the original key to this box, its contents can become your treasure trove. 64cd. Otherwise you'd better not open it." 64da. When the bitterly disappointed colleagues of the corrupt treasurer surrounded him and demanded explanations concerning fifteen million of public money which (that) was supposed to buy milk for poor school children and which (that) had been mysteriously embezzled, he told them honestly, with an innocent and charming smile: 64db. "I've only been doing what the law has allowed me	64fa. Leszek eagerly gave a new tailor his most treasured, traditional uniform so that the craftsman could make a waistcoat which (that) would suit it ideally. 64fb. He moved to a dilapidated hut with a thatched roof so that the tailor could temporarily live in his house. 64fc. The craftsman had all the utilities he needed to complete his job properly.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	to do. I am perfectly clean and you won't find any illegal money in any of my bank accounts. 64dc. It's unlikely you will ever be able to get this public money back. 64dd. Now you can blame only your own carelessness, since it is you yourselves who (that) have allowed the system which (that) facilitates theft and crime to work with impunity for so long. 64de. That's the true beauty of democracy," the treasurer summed up his explanations with a grin. 64e. Doesn't the tempo at which the public debt is growing worry the officials from the Treasury?
65a. What were the guests treated with? (With what were the guests treated?)	65b. The treatment can take (last) a few months. 65c. A treat of ice-cream was very nice.	65d. Why was that ill (sick) man untreated for so long? 65e. The disability is treatable with special exercises.
	66aa. If we look at tribalism from a humanitarian point of view, we can conclude that human beings should be differentiated in another way. 66ab. Instead of classifying people depending on their race, nationality, their geographical, family, educational or whatever other background, they can be differentiated on the basis of the moral standards they represent. 66ac. The moral values which (that) they observe determine their social attitudes and their behaviours (behaviors) in relation to other people. 66ad. According to the new classification you can distinguish a number of tribes,	66ca. The chart must present the tribal characteristics very accurately. 66cb. It must be created on the basis of the real and confirmed data. 66cc. The chart will allow you to get to know all the major traits of the tribes which (that) are being compared. 66cd. It will also allow you to see clearly what differences between them appear. 66ce. The diagram is being created so that everyone can make their own assessment of the particular tribes. 66cf. In case you use along a wide spectrum. 66ae. At its one end you can place peaceful HHs – individuals who (that) care about the fate of their family and friends and, if necessary, are ready to defend themselves, those who (that) are dear to them and their country against the invasion of foreign aggressors. 66af. The HHs don't seek fame because they are striving for their tribe to survive. That's why they co-operate, respect and help each other. 66ag. High regard they have for other people don't allow them to pursue their aims at the expense of someone else or by harming others. 66ah. At the opposite end of the spectrum you can place HJs – egocentric individuals who (that) co-operate with others because they perceive them as a convenient means which (that) enables them to fulfill their own desires and ambitions. 66ai. To prosper, the HJs usually sell their own creations or profit from trading in the works of others. 66aj. They also often trade in all kinds and forms of information, because they recognize that there is high demand for it. 66ak. In extreme cases, they literally trade in humans or use them as slaves who (that) secure their existence. 66al. To guarantee success to themselves they overpower others economically and subordinate them mentally, emotionally or physically.	the chart, you can base your opinion solely on the facts, common sense and your own reasoning. 66cg. If you listen to the opinions expressed by others, you don't know if you get to know the truth, or a distorted image of the reality presented to you by someone who (that) wants to shape your view in the way which (that) is favourable (favorable) for them. 66ch. Remember that such an opinion can be neither objective nor true. 66ci. If you don't want others to manipulate you, use the diagram and form your own opinions about the tribes which (that) are being compared.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	66am. They frequently resort to different forms of aggression and immoral exploitation, since they have to compete with other potential occupiers who (that) fight for resources which (that) allow them to dominate and profit handsomely from their own work or that of other people. 66an. Many HJs love spectacles, games and all sorts of vanity fairs. Such events allow them to compete, show off, stand out and enjoy stardom. 66ao. Since the shows provide the viewers with excellent entertainment, their organizers and performers expect to be well paid, admired, loved and generously rewarded for their outstanding achievements in them. 66ap. Those who (that) decide to watch the shows, other HJs and HHs, at the same time finance them and secure the creators and actors their well-being. 66ar. Sometimes there appear individuals who (that) dare challenge the system created by the HJs. Then the HJs organize “The Hunger Games” for them. 66as. The most provident and lucky participants of the Games are rewarded. 66at. They are allowed to live as long as they are able to survive in the conditions created for them by the aggressive HJs. 66ba. The HH tribesmen are well aware that the expansionist nature and insatiable appetites of the HJs do not only harm the HHs but threaten the entire human race. 66bb. The system the HJs have created and which they have been supervising will lead all people straight to an unavoidable demise. 66bc. For this reason the HHs must not only defend themselves against the aggressive HJs. The HHs must also take full responsibility for saving the human race. 66bd. They need to co-operate perfectly efficiently, protect one another and never surrender to the domineering HJs. 66be. The HHs recognize that some HJs can participate in the long-lasting salvage operation. 66bf. For it to become possible, the HJs must respect others and play their supporting role absolutely correctly. 66bg. They are advised to abandon all their disgusting, inhumane practices and quit their bad habits as soon as possible.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

67a. If you allow somebody to trick you out of your ownership rights and your savings, you will be left completely at that person's mercy and no tribunal will be able to get you out of the trouble. 67ba. Ben claims he was tricked into truancy. 67bb. Since it was his	67ca. Your opponents probably have not tried out every trick in the book to keep you dependent on the messy tangle of their internal problems. 67cb. In order to save yourself, you need to have some new tricks up your sleeve. 67da. The tricksters were legally advised by their lawyers. 67db. They were told that in	67ea. Your competitors know lots of tricks of the trade. 67eb. Learning them can be a tricky and very dangerous pastime. 67ec. Yet the more you find out about the methods your opponents use to achieve their tremendous successes, the greater your chances to work out your ways to compete with them.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

third misdeed and the school has very strict rules, he was expelled from it.	order to avoid being prosecuted for the serious crimes they have committed, they should buy properties in tropical countries, transfer their financial fortunes to foreign bank accounts and move abroad.
68a. If you know that good must eventually triumph over deception and other forms of evil, you have no choice but to support those who (that) know how to make it happen.	68b. Apparently everyone knows that Ernie loves playing tricks on his business partners and allegedly owes all his triumphs to hoax.	68ca. Don't be misled by the triumphant expression on the face of your competitor. 68cb. He wants you to get an impression that he has won and that the game is over while it is only just the beginning.
69aa. A little girl asked a street vendor a question which (that) stunned the seller but for some reason her parents trivialized the matter she had raised. 69ab. Perhaps they underestimated the intelligence of their child, while they themselves were incapable of noticing the problem?	69b. Allen was horrified. The politicians and celebrities were rushing in to answer the questions in the usual trivia quiz while the unsolved serious problems the nation was facing kept piling up. 69ca. "Let's not talk about obviousness and triviality," the chairman of the conference stated. 69cb. "We all know very well that only a weak, prone to addictions leader of this country will make our own states the world powers and will keep the known and titled participants of our annual meeting influential and rich," he added.	69da. One of the doctors who (that) examined the X-ray stated that the minute deformation on the vertebra is a trivial detail which (that) doesn't at all affect the correct functioning of the patient's body and mind. 69db. Another one pointed out that it must be constantly monitored and if left untreated it would quickly grow and form a dangerous tumor.
70a. Don't trouble yourself with cleaning this frying pan.	70b. What's your trouble this time? 70c. This troublemaker has to be got rid of, somehow. 70d. Do you anticipate other trouble spots to pop up on the map?	70e. Troubled by the fact that the company didn't sell a lot of their toasters its owners organized a series of culinary shows in the supermarket halls and handed out free packets of toasts to every customer who (that) stopped to watch their chefs preparing different dishes. 70f. Those troublesome ants got also to our sugar.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	71a. Some (people) prefer not to know the truth. 71ba. The slogan: “Distrust strangers and even some of your friends” sounds like truism. 71bb. However, are you always able to protect your privacy and deny foreigners entry to your home?	71c. Christine’s truthful confessions moved us. 71d. Presumably, some were authentically impressed by the natural interpretation of the song by an unknown artist. 71e. Decide which of these sentences are untrue. 71f. If the verdict has been based on untruthful testimony there must be a way to overturn the severe punishment and save the convict.
72a. The leader should first of all trust himself. 72ba. Diana distrusts this sort of evidence. 72bb. She believes it’s nothing more than trick photography and the alleged UFO and an alien in the photo are in fact a toboggan wrapped in an aluminium (aluminum) foil and a toddler in a helmet which (that) covers its face and in a costume made from white toilet paper.	72c. Mutual trust can lead to real friendship. 72da. Distrust is a form of self-defence (self-defense). 72db. If its cause is not a single incident but a coherent sequence of subsequent, troublesome experiences, distrust gradually builds up. 72dc. Thus, when your neighbour (neighbor) visits you and asks you to translate a text from the language you understand into the one they know, you do it willingly, without any reservations, suspicions or hesitations. 72dd. Yet it may happen that after many, many years, thanks to a great number of weird but extremely instructive coincidences, you finally comprehend that the original, seemingly innocent request, was in fact a sort of a test. 72de. Your neighbour (neighbor) is observing your reactions to his seemingly innocent request, because he wants to find out what you know and think about certain secretive procedures.	72e. How will we prove that the tests of the usefulness of the medicine (drug) are untrustworthy? 72f. When did you understand that being too trusting can be fatal for you?

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	72df. Presently you already comprehend that those secretive procedures can be very dangerous and harmful because you yourself have been attacked in a clandestine and deceitful manner many times and you have experienced how difficult it is to defend yourself against such attacks. 72dg. The aim of your neighbour's (neighbor's) actions may be to expose and discredit you. 72dh. He may also later accuse you of an improper behaviour (behavior) towards him. 72di. Therefore always very carefully weigh how you react to somebody's trick questions. 72dj. If numerous, long-term, personal experiences have equipped you with the awareness of how cautious you must be when you contact such people, it is unlikely that they would ever become your trustees or that you would like to set up a trust fund together.
73a. Why didn't you try to phone again?	73b. After a series of trials we decided not to use the fertilizer. 73c. At the trial the general submitted the need of calling (summoning) new witnesses.	73d. During trying times only the fittest will make (manage) it. 73ea. When Arnold experiences another bout of tonsillitis he takes tried and tested medicine. 73eb. Similarly, when he gives a lavish birthday party, he invites a tried and trusted band to entertain his guests.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020