12.9 Zdania z wyrazami zaczynającymi się od: t, u, v, w, z
Część 9/9 Zdania 156aa - 172cb – klucz

Uwaga: Poniższe angielskie zdania nie zawsze są jedynymi możliwymi tłumaczeniami polskich zdań z ćwiczeń. W nawiasach umieściliśmy alternatywne słowa lub amerykańskie odpowiedniki brytyjskich słów.

Ćwiczenie 1/1

zdania z czasownikami	zdania z rzeczownikami	zdania z przymiotnikami lub przysłówkami
156aa. “We can’t act against the wishes of our customers,” the manager of the development department pointed out. 156ab. “We must develop alternative products which (that) will conquer international markets as successfully as the ones which (that) we are now being forced to withdraw from sale due to the numerous complaints regarding their qualities,” he explained.	156b. One military strategist maintains that an ideal solution to a conflict is the situation when the aggressor recognizes that their voluntary withdrawal from the area which (that) they previously seized is their best option.	156ca. Normally, Ronald is an outspoken and lively socialite. 156cb. Yet recently he has become very quiet and withdrawn. 156cc. Someone broke the news that Ronald has given up drinking alcohol and these are his withdrawal symptoms.
157a. I wonder what will happen in the next episode.	157b. Would you like to live in wonderland? 157c. Will this cathedral be another world wonder?	157d. It would be wonderful if you forgot that I owe you (some) money. 157e. Our basketball players performed wonderfully!
	158aa. Mahogany is the kind of wood which (that) is highly valued due to its workability and durability. 158ab. Mahogany resists wood rot and that is why it is attractive in the boat construction industry. 158ba. Woodcarving has been Jeremy’s passion since he was a child. 158bb. His first wooden sculpture was a linden teddy bear whose picture	158ga. In his dream Roger suddenly stood eye to eye with a gracious wizard who (that) told him that Roger could make a wish which he, as a supernatural persona, would have come true. 158gb. Roger instinctively replied that he wanted the huge wooden chest which (that) was in his bedroom to fill with a great number of his own good deeds.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	he saw in the book his mother gave him for his seventh birthday. 158c. If you have to make woodland your new home you go there with the people you can trust one hundred per cent, not the ones you have your doubts about. 158d. Woodpeckers are the forest healers as they reduce the number of worms which (that) destroy the tissues of trees. 158ea. “I will buy each of you the best quality woodwind instrument and I will pay the tuition fees for your education,” said a generous uncle to his two nieces. 158eb. Veronica and Susan were delighted since they loved classical music. 158ec. They chose the clarinet as they really wanted to learn to play the instrument. 158ed. The uncle told the girls that they would be taught by two different teachers. 158ee. “As I pay for your lessons I intend to achieve two goals at the same time. 158ef. You will learn to play the clarinet and I will get to know which of the two tutors that I have chosen is a better teacher,” the uncle explained. 158fa. The owner of the house was a botanist.	158gc. At that moment Roger woke up. He was perplexed and felt uneasy. 158gd. “Did I say good deeds? I actually meant bars of gold and precious stones. 158ge. Perhaps if I fall asleep again the wizard appears one more time and I will have a chance to correct my slip of the tongue and ask for what I really yearn to have?” Roger mused. 158ha. This woody neighbourhood (neighborhood) is the lungs of the city, the inhabitants who (that) have gathered in front of the Town Hall say. 158hb. They are protesting against the plan to create an industrial complex in that area.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	158fb. Perhaps that's why the impressive woodwork on the walls of the master's study included so many floral motives.
	159aa. The rumors about the mysterious illness of the grandfather spread by word of mouth. 159ab. Yet they were highly unreliable since no one from the old man's family confirmed them. 159b. Pauline didn't intend to get engaged in deft wordplay and the exchange of charming smiles, bows and meaningless remarks, like: "Your wish is my command, but as you know very well, I am powerless." 159ca. Simple and convincing wording of the decent man's speeches appealed to people and they would have voted for him, had it not been for his cunning political collaborators and opponents. 159cb. They were at the nucleus of the country's establishment and they immediately noticed that a sincere person could be a threat to their own insatiable imperialistic ambitions as well as to various corporate interests. 159cc. As experienced, outstanding manipulators of public opinion, they quickly fooled the nation with the help of the well calculated, tricky	159fa. Some say the singer's carelessly worded comments were supposed to provoke and anger the audience. 159fb. Others claim that a mixture of helplessness, outrage and a not-too-well-concealled (concealed) sense of desperation prompted the artist to utter his crude words.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	propaganda. 159cd. The candidacy of the good-natured man was neatly withdrawn. 159ce. Meanwhile, the contenders who (that) allegedly represented different parties but in fact the same power-and-wealth-thirsty establishment were intensely promoted and advertised as the guardians of the nation's safety and the guarantors of the economic prosperity of the country. 159cf. The public gullibly (credulously) believed that voting for one of the recommended candidates was indeed in the people's best interests. 159cg. On the election day people obediently went to the polling stations and the persons who (that) received the greatest number of votes were democratically elected. 159ch. As for the solid, good fellow, who was still a popular public figure, there was no need for him to disappear into thin air. 159ci. Since he had been sidelined and had no power to make any meaningful decisions, he posed no real threat, while he still remained a socially useful person. 159cj. He could do the jobs which (that) would benefit the establishment. 159ck. He could also serve as a sort of a reminder. Common people were to clearly understand who and how ruled the world. 159cl. The poor chap could settle down on a farm, breed chickens, geese and turkeys and in this way become a role model for modern day farmers. 159cm. Meanwhile, the country thrived and was successfully developing an expansive foreign policy. 159cn. The domestic voters appeared content and seemed to fully appreciate their hypocritical leaders. 159co. In many following elections they demonstrated their loyalty to the system in which they functioned and chose some of the candidates from those who (that) were offered to them as their leaders. 159cp. Since for the majority of the people it didn't actually matter who governed them. 159cr. What counted were the economic realities. The inhabitants of the country highly valued the facts that they could easily find jobs and live comfortably and safely. 159cs. They could praise their leaders for the freedoms they could enjoy. 159ct. They felt happy as they lived in the country which (that) decided about the fate of other nations and in which, apparently, everybody could become successful thanks to their wit, knowledge, skills and hard work. 159da. Meanwhile, the peoples of the other countries have slowly begun to comprehend that the aggressive state, together with their equally mean and deceitful allies, has been cleverly fooling and blackmailing the whole world. 159db. Thanks to the well planned and skillfully conducted cunning tricks they have been keeping everybody else on their leash. 159dc. The aggressors have worked out simple and perfectly effective methods of benefiting from other people's strengths, weaknesses, hopes, desires and fears. 159dd. They have flawlessly used an obvious rule: "Make another individual depend on you completely, emotionally or economically, and they will serve you obediently as long as they live." 159de. The aggressors have been absolutely unscrupulous so they have hypocritically and thoroughly exploited the knowledge of the human nature, in order to guarantee prosperity and various benefits exclusively for themselves.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	159df. They also used false pretexts which (that) they invented so that the presumed reasons accurately suited their goals and launched numerous wars, in order to control the entire world. 159dg. Before they conquered a country, they made sure that certain conditions had been met. 159dh. First of all, the leaders of the country were corrupt officials with weak personalities – people who (that) could be bribed easily. 159di. The aggressors went in for a convenient deal with the venal leaders, subordinated the establishment of the country and smoothly introduced the system of governance which (that) was beneficial solely for them. 159dj. Thus far, the regime has served their purposes perfectly well in every place on the earth where they have managed to implement it. 159dk. They have controlled the masses by constantly organizing games and showcasing the successful, lucky individuals who (that) were to serve as the role models for others. 159dl. However, this way of governance has been gradually becoming inefficient. 159dm. Economic and social problems have started to mount and people have understood the motives of the activities of the ruthless and immoral intruders better and better. 159dn. The resistance movements against the rules of the hypocritical crooks have been developing in many countries and they have been gradually joining their forces. 159do. The persecuted have been more and more effectively opposing the aggressors who (that) have turned them into slaves and serfs. 159dp. Additionally, reasonable people have already known that continued economic growth, which was alleged to guarantee comfortable lives for everybody, couldn't last for too long. 159dr. The obvious reason for this is the fact that the earth's resources are limited and they can't be exploited recklessly indefinitely. 159ea. Marcel was grateful to his pal Amadeus that he had taught him how to use the word processor. 159eb. During a job interview Marcel was asked to demonstrate his skills. 159ec. He did well, passed the test and got a job in an office.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

160a. What are you	160c. Which works of art	160m. Lydia says (that)

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

working on now? 160ba. Teo was astounded when the man told him what precisely could be done with the set of tools. 160bb. It didn't tally with his own experience regarding the use of the set at all. 160bc. Everything became clear only when it turned out that they were talking about two different sets of tools.	do you like here? 160d. Why didn't the workers get their bonuses? 160e. Isn't Balbina's husband a workaholic? 160f. Agnes decided to do a half hour workout a (per) day. 160g. It's unlikely (that) the firm will need a bigger (stronger) workforce. 160ha. When Diego had work experience in an office a fellow clerk gave him good advice. 160hb. "Don't pull the tab on your soda can unless you are sure nobody shook that can before. 160hc. If somebody shook the can and then you will open it, the sticky liquid will be all over you and around you," the clerk said. 160ia. If you want to help the working class in this region, first you need to acquire in-depth knowledge about the tenacious traditions and beliefs of those people. 160ib. This will allow you to get to know the mentality of the members of this social group and the values which (that) they regard as essential. 160ic. Then try to comprehend what their expectations and needs are. 160id. All these might be useful if you are determined to find the common ground with them.	working conditions in the quarry are unacceptable. 160n. Michael has (got) a more workable plan of action. 160oa. Harry was uneasy: "The defence (defense) system suggested by the boss which, in his opinion, will prevent the formation of tornados here seems unworkable to me," he thought. 160ob. "The most reasonable thing I can do is to secure myself a place which (that) is the farthest from the likely core of the wind whirl that, to my mind, will begin to form," Harry sensibly deduced (inferred). 160oc. "The real danger to me are those who (that) will push me towards the would-be core of the tornado. I mustn't allow them to manage to do it," he contemplated. 160od. "There will also be the ones who (that) will themselves try to move away from the centre (center) of the mess and will attempt to take my relatively distant, safe place. I mustn't allow them to do it either," Harry considered other possibilities. 160oe. "Both scenarios are disadvantageous for me as I would find myself in a more perilous situation than I am now," Harry asserted himself.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	160ie. While you are making the great effort to help them solve their difficult problems, the collaboration with them may be truly vital. 160ja. The huge workload on that day took its toll on the workman. At the end of his shift he was exhausted and very thirsty. 160jb. In a plastic bottle he had some tepid water. 160jb. He was delighted that he had something to drink because he knew he wasn't going to find anything else to quench his thirst then. 160ka. None of the staff breathed a word of discontent at the conditions in their workplace. 160kb. Thus the management concluded everybody was fully satisfied with them. 160la. A great number of critics expressed their opinions about the installation. 160lb. Listening to them Wendy got an impression that there was some kind of a tacit agreement among them. 160lc. In their view, the installation was not a work of art. 160ld. Wendy, as an outsider, was able to look at it from a distance. 160le. The longer she looked at the extraordinary arrangement of the selection of the unique objects, the more she admired it as a splendid artistic achievement.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	161a. Do you question the worth of the losses evaluated by us?	161b. If these documents are worthless, why do you keep them in the safe? 161c. This idea is worth considering. 161d. Was it worthwhile to go beyond the Polar Circle to see the Northern Lights? 161e. When you start playing with your counterpart from the rival company, you'll realize that he's a worthy opponent (adversary). 161f. Irene often repeats that people who (that) don't keep their word are unworthy of her trust.
162a. Didn't it worry you that Sandra hadn't phoned (called) you for so long?	162b. Working mothers have a lot of worries.	162c. The appearance of newer and newer strains of viruses is worrying, isn't it? 162d. We were worried about the lack of water in our well. 162e. Someone suggested that some of the players seemed unworried by the thrashing defeat because they had been paid well to lose the game.
163a. When other patients of the ward heard the wail they thought the condition of the woman who (that) had been injured in a road accident worsened.	163ba. "This is a clear warning for all of us," one foreman whispered to another one confidentially. 163bb. "Everybody who (that) heard the boss's confession on TV could figure out what it was supposed to mean for ordinary folk, like us. 163bc. And he himself? He only narrowly avoided the worst-case scenario. 163bd. If he hadn't firmly stated that he had not	163ca. The father wanted to have a word with his minor son. The parent disapproved of the fact that the boy smoked cigarettes. 163cb. "There are worse addictions than smoking low-tar cigarettes," the adolescent tried to defend himself. 163d. "This must have been the worst tee shot in my all sporting career," the experienced golfer thought ridden a tandem with that persona he would have been dismissed.”	with embarrassment.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

164aa. Many examples show that if you worship decency and honour (honor), you voluntarily condemn yourself to abject poverty. 164ab. Some of the decent ones can bargain a slightly better fate for themselves. 164ac. For instance, if you are a woman and you have a supportive family, you can try to prove that you are indispensable at your workplace.	164ba. According to one cleric, the true worship doesn’t materialize through the participation in routine religious ceremonies and paying tribute to the deities. 164bb. It is necessary to strictly observe the rules which (that) enable to save the souls of the sinners from damnation. 164c. The accused admitted that up to the beginning of the trial they had been completely unaware of the fact that they had been implicated in worshipping the wrong ideals. 164d. The pioneers of the new social movement inform that before one decides to become a worshipper of their ideology, one should be aware of the burden of responsibility they take upon themselves, once they choose to get engaged in the peaceful resistance against greed, aggression, interventionism, racism, slavery, abuse of other individuals and social injustice.
165aa. In case in the future you would like to make excuses claiming that you have not been warned and you have not read the manual, here is what you need	165b. If you have applied the right antiseptics to clean and disinfect the wounds, they will heal quickly. 165c. The director of the hospital was asked if they had enough medical	165da. A group of strange-looking individuals were thrashing each other with batons and baseball bats. 165db. Those who (that) were observing the skirmish from afar say there weren’t any wounded onlookers to know. 165ab. It is recommended that you always use the device according to the instruction. 165ac. If you operate it carelessly, without sufficient attention to the precautionary measures, it may malfunction and it can even wound you. 165ad. You might suffer then and you will have to cope with the consequences of the injury. 165ae. You have inflicted it upon yourself because you had not been careful enough while operating the machine. 165af. Now you can blame only yourself for your ill health.	personnel to take proper care of the wounded.	among them. 165e. As far as psychological wounds are concerned, only reliable and tested specialists can correctly identify the prisoners who (that) feel psychically unwounded.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

166aa. “I've brought you a gift from Felicia, your old classmate,” a distinguished lady said to Miranda. 166ab. The woman unwrapped a packet and took out a small bottle with a yellowish liquid inside. 166ac. “This is a unique, very expensive and precious perfume. It has absolutely no smell when it's in the bottle,” the woman explained. 166ad. “You can get to know its wonderful	166ba. The woman was looking at the sweets in the box and wondered whether to buy some. 166bb. “The wrappers are so unbearably cute, that it's hard to resist buying the sweets,” she heard the voice of the man who (that) was standing next to her. 166bc. “As for the sweets themselves, in my opinion, they leave a very unpleasant aftertaste which (that) lingers in your mouth for a long time,” the man added. 166ca. Cecylia is an exceptionally choosy	166d. When the kids saw the unwrapped baked potatoes which were lying in front of them on the aluminium (aluminum) foil, they felt the familiar, uncomfortable rumble of hunger in their tummies.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

scent only when you put a drop or two on your body.” 166ae. “Why does Felicia want me to use the perfume?” Miranda asked. 166af. “She wants you to use it because the smell will bring you luck and an unimaginable success,” the lady answered and smiled charmingly. 166ag. “Wrap the parcel back in that elegant silver paper. I won’t take this present from you,” said Miranda. 166ah. “Why?” the lady was very surprised. 166ai. “I will never use the perfume because the only luck I believe in is my own work,” Miranda replied calmly and firmly.	person. 166cb. If the tint of the wrapping paper is not ideally what she is looking for, she will not use it to pack a present.
167aa. An attempt to wreck the family of nomads failed. 167ab. The peaceful cattle and sheep breeders hadn’t done anything wrong and they had nothing to hide. 167ac. Perhaps that’s why they weathered the campaign of insinuations and attacks and got out of it practically intact.	167ba. The fishermen spotted the wreck on a deserted beach. 167bb. When they got there they found out that the sail was badly weathered and the boat itself was in a very bad state. 167bc. The fishermen wondered if they could retrieve something from their find and make any use of it for themselves. 167ca. “If the wreckage of the yacht has already been here for a long time it must have been	167da. The astute treasure hunters got hold of the wrecked rehab equipment. 167db. They thought they could offer it for sale and tout the whole set as invaluable museum artefacts (artifacts). 167dc. They hoped the equipment would reach a very high price. 167dd. They were very disappointed since the buyers didn’t flock in to their auction house to take part in the bidding.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	searched several times," Caroline thought. 167cb. She was surprised when she found a pair of pinkish, tinted glasses in stylish frames in the wreck. 167cc. They were tucked in a small, metal container. 167cd. "Apparently nobody has bothered to open the box before," Caroline concluded.
168aa. When two fighters are wrestling and one falls to the ground with a thump, you immediately know that the strongman who (that) did not allow his opponent to fell him becomes the winner. 168ab. The situation is not so obvious, though, when two thinkers wrestle with the same conundrum, which directly concerns also you, and either offers a plausible but different solution. 168ac. You yourself have to decide which answer, to your mind, is more convenient for you.	168ba. It's a public gym and many wrestlers practised (practised) on the mats in it. 168bb. It was discovered that on the mats there are fine grains of a mysterious mineral which (that), as it seems, had been trodden into them. 168bc. It turns out that the substance has extraordinary healing qualities. 168bd. Therefore, every single piece of the mineral must be collected and carefully preserved for the future use. 168be. The case is being examined. Perhaps the investigators will find out who placed the grains of the mineral in the mats. 168ca. Ben says he wanted to practise (practice) wrestling to learn the defensive techniques. 168cb. They were supposed to allow him to get to know how to stand firmly and never lose ground under his feet.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

169a. Some people instinctively wrinkle their foreheads or brows when they are thinking intensely.	169b. The iron was too hot when you were pressing the collar of this elegant silk blouse and that's how the permanent wrinkles formed on it. 169c. If your skin is exposed to extreme weather conditions, like freezing temperatures and strong winds, wrinkling can develop quickly.	169da. An old woman with long, gray hair and a wrinkled face was trudging and breathing heavily. 169db. She was laden with a weighty sack filled with carrots and heads of cabbage and celery which (that) she had collected from her field.
170a. Since the same vowel can sound different in various words, the students were asked to write the possible phonetic transcriptions of all the vowels in the English language. 170b. Mother is looking for a piece of paper on which she wrote down the recipe for a vegetable pie. 170ca. "It would be premature to write off the method as an insufficiently effective way of learning a foreign language," the consultant of the Ministry of Education pondered. 170cb. "Actually, its efficiency has not been examined yet and the results obtained by using it have not been juxtaposed with the effects achieved when another but already tested way of teaching has been applied," the	170d. "The cooperation with the writer's heirs would be much more convenient for us," the publisher told his managers at the board meeting. 170e. „If somebody doesn't stop the bulldozer in time, it will smash this magnificent wrought-iron gate and it will be a write-off," one of the engineers from the construction site noticed. 170f. The writing exercises at the university course required the future reporters to give very clear accounts of the events they were describing in as few words as possible. 170g. To confirm that a person whose handwriting is rather irregular could not become an excellent pianist you would have to examine and compare penmanship of many very good and not-too-good piano players.	170h. As you are conducting this specific investigation, you always have to bear in mind the fact that later on those people may want to deny the testimonies they have themselves written and signed. 170i. It seems that in that sect an unwritten convention takes effect that virgins who (that) worship Jesus Christ do not pose any threat to the promoters of love.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

consultant continued his considerations.
171aa. While the dog's master was trying to pull the tick out of the animal's body, his pet was wagging his tail happily. 171ab. Apparently, the dog was completely unaware of the fact that it had been wronged by an insect which (that) had attached itself to his back.	171ba. Your opponents have probably realized that their wrongdoings have been noticed and are now being meticulously examined. 171bb. They should also keep in mind the fact that the offences they have committed will be remembered forever. 171bc. Whenever it is needed, they will be reminded of the vital experiences from their lives. 171c. "What exactly did the priest mean by saying that the time was ticking for the wrongdoers?" Ian wondered as he was thinking about the sermon he had heard in church.	171da. One referee claims that the wrong interpretation of the rules of the game prompted the other referee to declare that Manola won the match with Claudius by a whisker. 171db. The first referee, however, is convinced that the result of the game is a draw. 171e. John was particularly scrupulous, exact and careful because he didn't want to wrongly classify any useful material as trash. 171f. Some observers may have wrongfully concluded that it was possible to fill the remaining void space with even more contaminated air.
172aa. If you don't zip the sack correctly and start shaking it to mix the colourful (colorful) sleek counters which (that) are needed to play the game, some of the pieces may fall out and scatter all around the floor. 172ab. Then you will have to look for them. 172ba. Ala unzipped her jacket and showed her mum (mom) a soft toy which (that) she held close to her chest. 172bb. It was a smooth-coated otter. It had a friendly face and long whiskers. 172bc. "This is my	172ca. "Perhaps someone has done the zip (zipper/zip fastener) of the tent from the outside," Christopher wondered. 172cb. "Marcus was inside. That's why he couldn't see who that person was," Witek concluded.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

new friend Hilda. Dad gave it to me. Look at her long whiskers. Dad says they are very sensitive. 172bd. My otter uses them to detect disturbances in the water in which she is swimming. 172be. The whiskers inform her if any animals are trying to approach her.”

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020