12.6 Zdania z wyrazami zaczynającymi się od p i q
Część 2/2 Zdania 62a - 122c – klucz

Uwaga: Poniższe angielskie zdania nie zawsze są jedynymi możliwymi tłumaczeniami polskich zdań z ćwiczeń. W nawiasach umieściliśmy alternatywne słowa lub amerykańskie odpowiedniki brytyjskich słów.

Ćwiczenie 1/1

zdania z czasownikami	zdania z rzeczownikami	zdania z przymiotnikami lub przysłówkami
62a. Our guest presented interesting observations concerning education.	62b. The presence of the representative of the local authorities was noticed immediately. 62c. This book will be the best present for Catherine. 62d. What time do you start your presentation? 62e. I didn't listen to the presenter carefully enough. (I wasn't listening to the presenter carefully enough.)	62f. Presently (At present) we are preparing for the start in an international tournament. 62g. My present financial situation isn't the best.
63a. Ernie has been saving part of his pocket money to have his book printed.	63b. Check the punctuation marks also in the part of the text in small print. 63c. I think they have a laser printer at the beauty parlour (parlor) down the street. 63d. With the invention of the computer, printing lost its domineering position in intercommunication. 63e. Whose fingerprints did the police find on the pitchfork?
64a. Is the government going to privatize the biggest (largest) bank?	64b. Was the privatization of the national railway a good idea? (Was privatizing the national railway a good idea?) 64c. In this part of the garden you'll find a lot of privacy. 64d. I want to talk to private Brook.	64e. I wonder what they talked (were talking) about privately. 64f. Irene wanted to talk with me in private. 64g. These are Kamil's private problems.
65a. I'm not sure if they'll imprison him.	65b. What did the man do when he left prison? 65c. Imprisonment isn't always the most effective punishment.	65e. One of the imprisoned men turned out to be a known writer.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	65d. Are the prisoners treated well here?
66a. Is it possible to preserve some part of this pristine forest?	66b. I should have written down the recipes my grandma used for food preservation (preserving). 66c. Preservatives can be harmful to our health. 66d. Basia says that in her family baking (making) cakes is her preserve.	66e. Where did you hide the photos you preserved from (the) wartime?
67a. If you are allergic to this medicine, the doctor will prescribe you another one.	67b. I can't find the prescription in my bag.	67c. Some say that we should return to prescriptive methods of governing (ruling) people. 67d. They didn't have the prescribed medicine in the pharmacy (chemist's).
68a. Monica only pretends that she doesn't see (that) she is admired.	68b. Her friendly attitude toward (towards) us is only a pretence. 68c. Which of the pretenders to the award do you like more? 68d. I don't understand your social pretensions.	68e. Agnes is modest and unpretentious. 68f. The woman was speaking loudly and was behaving pretentiously.
69a. The fence will prevent the trees in the nursery from being eaten by forest animals.	69b. We should put more emphasis on disease prevention.	69c. The preventive measures (that) we used were ineffective. 69d. Were the riots preventable?
70a. Doesn't he price his works too high?	70b. Food prices are bound to go up. 70c. Wanda will take part (participate) in pricing our products.	70d. Why do you buy in this shop if you say it's too pricey? 70e. Paul's intelligence is priceless for us.
71a. The star's performance was preceded by a long applause.	71b. The precedent of this case happened a few years ago. 71c. In her case, honesty takes precedence over making a profit.	71d. The preceding year wasn't so dry and hot. 71e. Everybody (Everyone) admitted that the sentence was unprecedented.
72a. Somebody (Someone) predicted such a future a long time ago, didn't they?	72b. Why don't you believe in Ernest's predictions? 72c. Eagerness to help others can be treated as a predictor of the person's	72d. You're wrong saying that such tragic consequences of the destruction of the environment were character.	unpredictable. 72e. Predictably, Andrew lied again. 72f. Wild animals can sense danger so their behaviour (behavior) can be predictive.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

73a. Is there something you can pride yourself on?	73b. Helen's pride didn't allow her to ask her ex-husband for help.	73c. Did you do something (anything) in your life you aren't proud of?
74a. Test and expose the means which (that) enable the system to privilege the wealthy few.	74b. Kevin was grateful for the privilege of watching the premiere of the musical.	74c. The maverick choreographer refused to talk to the representative of the privileged minority. 74d. Why don't you focus on the reasons why some underprivileged members of the society choose to survive on less than a pound a day?
75a. The piano is highly prized for its unique timbre.	75b. The minister packed all his prizes and trophies and got out of the office with a cynical smile thinking: "They won't be able to clean up the mess I'm leaving behind for the rest of their lives". 75c. The prizewinner says the pike has lived in his pond for ten years.	75d. Is this the prize specimen of the perennial? 75e. Take good care of this prized paragliding equipment.
	76a. The probability of success of the polar expedition was now higher than a week before.	76b. Probabilistic approach is much more appropriate than the one based on rare occurrences. 76c. It's probable that the powder contained addictive substances. 76d. It seemed improbable he would wear those purple pyjamas (pajamas). 76e. The quotient will probably be less than a quarter.
	77a. The government is	77b. Aren't the parents of

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	expected to address the problems that cripple the economic growth and present the public with the ways the ministers are going to tackle them.	problem children one of the biggest problem in itself? 77c. The primacy of the authorities can be regarded as problematic (problematical) only if those who govern are unable to fulfil (fulfill) their promises.
78a. Having paused for a moment to eat their sandwiches, the seamstresses then proceeded to sew the overalls.	78b. Now, that the police have their prime suspect, the legal proceedings against him can be brought. 78c. The businessmen relaxed by the pool and pondered how to invest the proceeds from the sales of their palmtops. 78d. Who failed to follow safety procedures?
79a. Rob will have to wait for a decision until a great amount of information concerning his work has been processed.	79b. The process of reconciliation with the occupiers will depend on their willingness to co-operate on our terms. 79c. If you carelessly used one of the harmful ingredients in the food processing, you can blame only yourself for the failure to avoid poisons. 79d. A new waste processor will be installed in the sewage processing plant.	79e. Mother put a thin slice of bread and a small piece of processed cheese on her daughter's plate.
80a. The head of the state proclaimed that the nation had at last regained freedom and democracy.	80b. The proclamation of independence was a long-awaited moment of jubilation. 80c. Ted plays the percussion so well now that he can call himself a pro (professional). 80d. Ann's pen-friend wrote that she weighed up the pros and cons and decided to have her ears pierced and wear earrings.	80e. Repairing the paddle and using it to row the boat is an example of a proactive approach to solving problems. 80f. How did the pro-democracy activist react to the allegations that his incomes were out of all proportion to his abilities?
81a. How many	81b. It's understandable that	81g. Charles is happy

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

useless reports has the commission produced so far?	organic farm produce is more expensive. 81c. Even car producers worry about their future. 81d. Don't you get an (the) impression that clothes production could be less, taking into account the demand for wear? 81e. This year we haven't increased our productivity. 81f. The man could choose whether he wanted to decorate enamel pots or put together pincers at a production (an assembly) line.	(glad/satisfied) because he's spent the day productively. 81h. The only plus of this unproductive meeting was the fact that none of the sides was able to offer us a constructive solution.
82a. Can we professionalise (professionalize) social relations?	82b. Martin regards himself as an experienced professional (pro). 82c. How do you understand the professionalism of a doctor? 82d. An engineering profession appealed to Jerry more than a legal one.	82e. Our specialist will take care of it professionally. 82f. I think that (In my opinion) your service wasn't professional enough. 82g. Journalists are particularly sensitive to unprofessional conduct of public figures.
83a. Lucy very carefully programmed her life.	83b. Did Peter consider becoming a programmer? 83c. I'm trying to understand the algorithm of this program. 83d. Did you like yesterday's programme (program) about the construction (building) of the Great Wall of China? 83e. If you envy those who (that) are good at programming, why don't you learn how to do it yourself? 83f. The ADL method and courses are an example of programmed learning applied to foreign language acquisition.	83g. Is this device programmable?
84a. What can we do to progress even	84b. The progress we've achieved doesn't satisfy our	84c. We need more progressive schools.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

faster?	management.
85a. Does democracy mean that nobody can prohibit a dishonest company from advertising services that (which) will ruin their buyers?	85b. The prohibition of the use of the stuff would be 100 per cent (percent) effective if the stuff didn't exist.	85c. The price of the property was prohibitively high so Vincent had to accept the fact that he would never buy it.
86a. Try to project a positive image of our firm.	86b. Does our lecturer know how a projector works? 86c. When does Arnold start his next project? 86d. The projection of the film turned out to be the most important event of the day.	86e. Photos from the site of the catastrophe projected on the wall moved everybody (everyone).
87a. Evasive explanations made by officials only proliferated allegations about an appalling scale of corruption within the political elites.	87b. Can proliferation of selfish and antisocial individuals be compared to the proliferation of the weapons of mass destruction?	87c. The most prolific individuals produce the most offspring so that their genes can dominate in the generation that follows.
88a. They will prolong inflicting pain and injury as the only thing they are interested in is satisfying their desires.	88b. Henry applied for the prolongation of the validity of his USA visa.	88c. Prolonged periods of abnormal conditions may suggest that we need to adapt to the life in new circumstances.
89a. Who promised to prune the trees in your orchard and, incidentally, tried to cut off the sprouts of that rare, precious variety?	89b. What's the value of the promise made by a prowler who builds his career on prying into other people's lives? 89c. A provident person would try to secure their future, in case they failed to find the promised land.	89d. Their instinct has them single out any promising talent who (that) is unlikely to propagate their ideology and prevent a virtual competitor from succeeding.
90a. Philip tried to protect his family from aggressive neighbours (neighbors).	90b. The boy felt safe under the protection of his older (elder) brother. 90c. His protectors turned out to be the Mob (Mafia) bosses. 90d. It's natural that those who sell you their products and don't buy what you make criticize you for your protectionism.	90g. Protective treatment of young people gives them a false image of life. 90h. How long were the documents lying on the desk unprotected?

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	90e. A strong country can become a protectorate of a weak one. 90f. Isn't the man who saved the bank the former protégé of the famous stockbroker?
91a. The man claims (that) he can prove (that) he's guilty. 91b. The fact that the text has been proofread doesn't mean there are no mistakes in it. 91c. The accusations of the mismanagement of the country have been disproved and the economy is thriving again.	91d. We need (a) more reliable proof. 91e. Don't forget about proofreading before you publish the book.	91f. Is the accusation provable? 91g. What other provable facts do you want to tell me about? 91h. Do away with the tribe's leader, bribe the elderly, install your puppet figure at the top and entrap the tribe members, tribeswomen in particular, into love affairs with your representatives: that used to be a quick and proven recipe for financial success for that peculiar foreign superpower. 91i. The only way to find out if an unproven theory is correct is to test it persistently.
92a. Did this ancient monument prophesy the era of pyramid selling that (which) to some would become a source of great wealth?	92b. Prophecy based on patchy knowledge is far from reliable. 92c. You can call somebody a prophet only when what they foresee comes true.	92d. You may take those prophetic visions into consideration simply for prophylactic reasons.
93a. How did the man protest when the other jurors decided the boy was guilty and they didn't intend to discuss his case?	93b. Did the father whose daughter had been imprisoned choose a peaceful protest against injustice? 93c. The protesters' demands for pay parity are in this case absolutely justified.
94a. You still haven't provided us with the recordings disgracing the officer.	94b. Who is the provider of medicines (medications) to this hospital? 94c. Somebody stole whole	94d. The provided water didn't suffice them for long. 94e. They will glaze the

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	(all) our provisions from the shed.	window today, providing (provided) they have the right pane of glass.
95a. Your aggression provoked the aggression from your opponent.	95b. Don't fall into the trap of their provocations. 95c. Provocateurs usually expect you to react in a certain way, so, why don't you surprise them?	95d. The reporter's questions were provocative, weren't they? 95e. What were the consequences of the unprovoked intervention?
96a. Since we've had a new manager we've prospered a lot better.	96b. After years of prosperity we had a few difficult (hard) ones.	96c. This part of town used to be prosperous.
97a. How much did you profit from selling scrap-metal last year?	97b. You shouldn't consume all your profits. 97c. The profit margin they are obtaining on those frying pans is very good.	97d. You won't survive if your business is unprofitable. 97e. Trade (Commerce) used to be much (far) more profitable.
98a. Can you tell me how to pronounce this word? 98b. Did I mispronounce some (any) words?	98c. Alice spends a lot of time practising (practicing) her French pronunciation. 98d. We didn't understand a lot from a (the) vague pronouncement of (from) the party's spokesman.	98e. He used some unpronounceable words. 98f. In the man's speech there were many mispronounced words.
99a. At the fair we'll promote (be promoting) our latest digital camera.	99b. Eva's books began to sell only after she'd found a rich (wealthy) promoter. 99c. When your husband gets a promotion, you'll be able to afford expensive holidays (vacations) abroad.	99d. I wanted to buy a magazine with a promotional film, but it was sold out.
100a. Who prompted them to dump the radioactive material into a pit dug in the forest?	100b. The prompt may have been intended to mislead Frank. 100c. The prompter reminded the cast to be punctual at the rehearsal.	100d. The alarm bell rang and a prompt rescue action followed. 100e. Did Gina listen attentively to the promptings of her mind? 100f. The pupil promptly named all the personal pronouns in Spanish and got an "A" for his answer.
101a. What did your sister propose to do?	101b. Which proposition should I consider in this context? 101c. The parliament will consider another	101d. The proposed location has been (was) accepted.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	governmental (government's) proposal.
102a. He knew he would remain a rich man and that people would soon forget that he'd been prosecuted for breaching the terms of the contract.	102b. The system of prosecution, defence (defense) and the court of justice secures employment for many lawyers and is difficult to control from the outside. 102c. The prosecutor dropped the charges against the infamous criminal and set him free, so the villain, in return, committed a series of much more serious crimes.
	103a. The more your psyche is controlled by emotions the easier it can be to impose one's will on you. 103b. As a psycho (psychopath), he can avoid punishment and can be treated instead. 103c. Psychotherapy can be of little help if the politician is in the banker's pocket. 103d. The psychoanalysis (centred) centered on finding the answer to the question why the man had decided to cut off his ponytail at that crucial moment in his life. 103e. The psychoanalysts' opinions enabled them to work out effective methods, how to deal with their wealthy client. 103f. You can learn a lot about human beings by studying psychology. 103g. Psychologists are well aware that their knowledge is very useful also to those who abuse others for their own purposes. 103h. What does psychiatry say about this kind of mental illness?	103j. Pop art has an enormous psychological influence on young people. 103k. Is autism a psychiatric disorder?

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

	103i. The psychiatrist was looking at his pencil and was listening to a long confession of his patient.
104a. What did you punish the (that) boy so severely for?	104b. A reward is often more effective than punishment.	104c. Some (people) think (that) abortion should be punishable. 104d. The race was punishing for both the horses and jockeys. 104e. A few perpetrators remained unpunished.
105a. Sylvia's cousin purchased a peacock to enrich his collection of fowl (poultry).	105b. The purchase of a pair of ski poles can't have taken Garry the whole afternoon. 105c. If Pamela's savings had equal purchasing power she would adapt a similarly relaxed pose.
106a. When we purify this liquid, we'll have drinkable water.	106b. The purity of the ideals is unquestionable. 106c. The construction of the new water purification plant will be completed next year. 106d. Have the researchers determined the nature of the impurities in the sample?	106e. What do you mean by saying that his intentions are impure? 106f. This story is pure fiction. 106g. His theory is purely speculative.
	107a. An obvious purpose of building up a detailed profile of their customers is to increase the sales. 107b. Do you think Olaf didn't invite Mark on purpose (purposely) to give him time to think the matter over?	107c. They particularly enjoy exercising various tricks, how to pinch you purposefully, when you are in difficulty and when it hurts the most. 107d. Let's hope he period of probation won't turn out to be purposeless.
108a. When you pursue a goal of profound significance, perseverance is quintessential.	108b. The pursuit of the offender ended at the far corner of the peninsula, from where he could not escape. 108c. It was pitch-dark in the tunnel so the pursuers turned on their flashlights.
109a. When a contender pushes you against the wall, the elbow and shoulder	109b. They used to get a drink at the push of a button, now they have to do much more to quench their thirst.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

pads will soften the impact.	109c. How much did Alex pay the pusher for a pinch of drug?
110a. The star wouldn't like them to publicize the details about her affair with the director, would she?	110b. A lot of people are waiting for the publication of the data about the collaborators of (with) secret services. 110c. Without publicity few people will know about your existence. 110d. How long did Gregory work as (the) Times' publicist? 110e. The public listened to the ban on using cars with awe (surprise). 110f. The football pitch (field) is public property and should be well guarded. 110g. The women who were sitting in a circle were removing beans from the dried pods and were talking about the importance of positive public relations.	110h. Public executions were once the main attractions for townspeople.
111a. It's unbelievable how many new titles are published every year.	111b. These comics belong to our most popular publications. 111c. Will Joanna manage to find a publisher for her detective story? 111d. Publishing has become easy, which worries a lot those who used to monopolize the business.	111e. The poet's wife came across some of his unpublished poems.
112a. The mother told her spoilt sons that if they keep pulling the pillow, each in different direction, they'll tear it apart and fill the room with clouds of flying feathers and down. 112b. Once they pull through, your opponents can become ever more	112e. The formula allows you to calculate the gravitational pull between the two masses. 112f. The pullover has two pockets so you can keep a wallet and paper tissues there. 112g. You can strengthen your arm muscles by practising (practicing) pull-ups.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

merciless. 112c. The vehicle pulled over and the police officer checked the driver's documents. 112d. The firefighters managed to quench the flames but the decaying building will have to be pulled down anyway.
113a. When the mugger punched the youngster on the chin, the boy uttered a piercing shriek.	113b. It must have been an unexpected punch. 113c. After a three-hour exercise with a punchbag (punching bag) the boxer started a training fight with his teammate.
114a. It puzzled Stanley how the use of money contributed to the rapid increase in the population of human beings.	114b. In this puzzle the kids were matching the images of the fronts of the faces with their profiles. 114c. Let's see what they will do apart from demonstrating their puzzlement.	114d. The girl looked puzzled when the stranger wanted to hand her the gift, but did she eventually take it? 114e. It is quite puzzling how complex the so called "primitive forms of life" are.
115a. Kate was happy when she qualified to (for) the next round of the quiz. 115b. Disobeying the rules can (may) disqualify you.	115c. It's a rare discipline and few people can assess (estimate) Robert's qualifications. 115d. We were disappointed by Frank's disqualification from the army.	115e. The disqualified sportsman (athlete) appealed (against) the decision of the commission. 115f. When will you be able to call yourself a qualified nurse? 115g. Unqualified workers may not be careful enough during the removal of the crumbling plaster from the walls.
116a. They may have forgotten to quantify the disadvantages of going on the expedition without sufficient provision.	116b. What quantity of pepper and salt does the restaurant use monthly?	116c. There has to be a quantitative and qualitative analysis.
117a. Now that everybody sees that	117b. There is no place for a family quarrel when your	117c. You can't put a quarrelsome person's

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

they are from head to foot plastered with mud, they shouldn't be quarreling whether to wash the dirt off or not, should they?	neighbour (neighbor) is seizing your land, is there?	mouth in plaster, can you?
118a. Each of the four was hungry so they quartered the loaf of bread.	118b. It's important you saw their living quarters with your own eyes and you heard their stories from their own mouths. 118c. The quarter-finals gave all the participating teams a good opportunity to learn about their strengths and weaknesses. 118d. What do tabloids write about the members of the string quartet?	118e. How high is your average quarterly tax?
119a. Joanna had better read the set book because the teacher will question the class on (about) it. 119b. Did the police officer question the fact that the interrogated woman was pregnant?	119c. The question was whether you use the prefix "in" or "im" in front of "polite" to form a word with an opposite meaning. 119d. The questioning proved that the man was as self-centred (self-centered) and unapologetic as ever. 119e. There are still many question marks over this divisive issue. 119f. If you want someone to confirm that your statement is correct, you can end it with a question tag, a phrase like: "isn't it?". 119g. They can learn a lot about you by reading the questionnaires you've filled in (out).	119h. Exactly how many pins the vet removed from the body of the poor chick is still questionable. 119i. If his guilt turns out to be unquestionable, he should first be charged with misleading public opinion and breaking the international law, shouldn't he? 119j. The revolutionary must have been driven by unquestioned faith in reason.
120a. Nobody is chasing Bill so he doesn't have to quicken his pace.	120b. We value David for his integrity as well as for the quickness of his wit.	120c. After a quick run the jogger's skin was damp with perspiration (sweat). 120d. The farmer quickly wiped his sweaty palms, poured some fresh milk into a tinned mug and handed it to the traveller (traveler). 120e. Quick-tempered individuals are advised to calm down and perform their duties with the greatest care.

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020

121a. Incontestable proofs and unmistakable arguments should quieten (quiet) down the criticism expressed by doubters.	121b. The quiet and the enchantingly mysterious beauty of the nature reserve may induce you to discover the new truths. 121c. There was disquiet as the move posed a considerable challenge for the contenders from the other team.	121d. “Those scholars have never before been closer to pinning down the causes of that horrible disease,” their messenger announced quietly.
122a. The student was to quote plural forms of English nouns that (which) didn’t end with an “s”.	122b. The quote (quotation) comes from one of the Pope’s famous works. 122c. Did you place quotation marks (quotes/speech marks/ inverted commas) around the phrases you cited (quoted)?

Copyright by ADL Publishing Elżbieta Żółtak 2020