80a. Curiosity, keenness to keep your mind preoccupied and questioning any authority are the main characteristics that typify a free thinker.	80ba. Once you take for granted the typology which (that) has been cleverly smuggled into your mind, you become indoctrinated. 80bb. Then it is very difficult for you to look critically at the classification and judge it objectively, on its actual merits. 80bc. Those who (that) preach and claim that only their belief is right, unfailing and infallible know it well. 80bd. They don't want you to understand that they purposefully mislead you so that they could take advantage of your belief. 80be. If you stopped believing them, they would lose their face and their privileged positions. 80bf. Such preachers might want to do whatever is necessary in order to prevent it from happening.	80c. Patricia asked me to notify her whenever her typical involuntary facial twitch appears, since she would like to control it. 80d. Typically, Jerry wears a turtleneck and jeans when he relaxes in his backyard.
81aa. In order to thoroughly study the personality of an individual the tormentors may systematically tyrannize that person. 81ab. They may, among many other things, use the most sophisticated and cruel forms of psychological mutilations which (that) are known to the oppressors, and, for a long period of time, they may meticulously note and	81ba. The guardians of the existing social system promote themselves as those who can offer you "a better life". 81bb. They socialize with you so that to tempt you to join them and in various ways encourage you to comply with their standards of behaviour (behavior). 81bc. They give you a hint that once you obey their rules, a chance for more prosperity for you might become a reality. 81bd. When you acquaint yourself with the requirements of the system they work so	81da. Everybody admires the outstanding successes of the female athlete. 81db. In order to achieve them, she undergoes a tyrannical, physical and psychological training regime and she does it voluntarily and continuously. 81ea. Every psychologist knows that a great number of tyrannized spouses choose to stay in an abusive relationship with their aggressive partners. 81eb. Some of them don't have enough will power to set themselves free, just examine that person's reactions to all sorts of stimuli. 81ac. Observing how the mind of the person copes with different emotions and how their character develops and changes with time, gives the persecutors a good insight into the individual's innermost strengths and weaknesses. 81ad. If the oppressors succeed in wisely provoking their victim so that the person succumbs to their own weakness and makes an error which (that) will bring their defeat, the tormentors will become merely the witnesses of the demise their victim has inflicted on themselves.	vigorously to preserve, you realize that its protectors expect from you unfaithfulness, immorality and hypocrisy. 81be. Thus you may conclude that those who (that) currently control every aspect of social life, guard the system which (that) to you is a hideous tyranny. 81bf. The tyranny blocks your career prospects, unless you behave immorally and hypocritically. 81bg. You are facing the choice: either you preserve your integrity and abandon any hope for success in their social hierarchy or you give up your personal dignity, comply with their deceitful rules and become a pawn with which the guardians of the system play all sorts of their mean games. 81bh. Never forget that their tyranny functions perfectly well thanks to a powerful army of devoted believers who (that) are determined to preserve it since it secures their livelihood. 81bi. You stand no chance of contradicting their system effectively unless you prepare yourself very carefully and thoroughly to it. 81bj. Fighting a tyranny resembles fighting a terrible disease. 81bk. 	81bl. Then you must identify every single individual in your surroundings who (that) works in favour (favor) of the system and enables it to oppress and discriminate against you so effectively. 81bm. Think if there is any way you could possibly protect yourself against them. 81bn. Perhaps your surroundings can become the place where you can build your first line of defence (defense)? 81bo. It seems wise to work out such a way of protecting yourself against the system that its promoters themselves form a shield which (that) guards you against its vice. 81bp. If you manage to create such a shield, it's in your best interest to have it well guarded. 81br. Without it, your chances of survival are close to zero. 81bs. The method of many layers of shields is not new. You might have seen examples of its applications in some old Japanese films. 81bt. When you already know what exactly causes the tyranny and you are able to protect yourself against it, you need to get to know everything about the people who (that) discriminate against you and about the discriminatory measures they take against you. 81bu. Then you can start designing wise methods of counteracting the tyranny. 81bv. Make them neutralize the repressive actions which (that) are taken against you as precisely as possible.

the magnitude of the job his team was to tackle. 85cb. He underlined (underscored) the importance of a positive psychological approach and optimism which (that) derived from the huge public support for the right concept of repairing the wrongs. 85da. Don't underrate the perfectly organized team work of your rivals since this is what gives them the incredible advantage over their competitors. 85db. Try to make the best use of this characteristic, but only when it serves great and noble ideals. 85ea. If you are able to correctly identify what underpins the best performance of your staff, you know what they need to have in order to work really intensely. 85eb. If you promise to give them what they want to have, they might work very well for you. 85fa. You can persistently undermine the value of one's contribution to the success of the project and underplay the importance of their constant endeavour (endeavor). 85fb. In this way you	calming the situation down was going to be far more difficult than realizing what had caused the anger of ordinary people. 85ld. They worried they would all soon learn how serious the undercurrents of frustrations, disappointments and resentments among the disillusioned workforce were and how conscious the nation was of the unforgivable managerial errors their leaders were responsible for. 85ma. To keep somebody in the position of an underdog you need to constantly put new obstacles in front of them. 85mb. Thanks to that they are always preoccupied with fighting the odds. 85na. The scholars claim that the underestimation (underestimate) of the problem has never been an issue. 85nb. The problem was that never before has there been an opportunity to implement the only truly viable regime which (that) would enable the endangered species to survive. 85nc. For the regime can last if it relies on the principle of reciprocity and interdependence of the members of the community and it functions as a closed circuit. 85oa. The foxes were waiting hidden in the thick undergrowth. 85ob. Then there was a shot and a wild goose tumbled down. 85oc. Before the hunter	85vb. She thought that while others were dancing and enjoying small talk she would write the paper on terrestrial vertebrates that the biology teacher had assigned them to do. 85w. The boys tugged at the rusty chain which (that) had got stuck underneath a heap of old bricks, metal scraps and pieces of timber but couldn't pull it out. 85xa. Our main competitor uses obsolete technology, is understaffed and has little money to invest in development. 85xb. His company can't possibly threaten our dominant position in the market. 85y. "They may forbid people from using my performance enhancement stuff but those who (that) like it can still buy it under the counter in my drug stores," said the self-satisfied trader to his customer, smiled deceitfully and blinked his eye meaningfully. 85z. The yeast growth process was underway and the workers had to prepare different kinds of flour for the full selection of bread the bakery produced every day.

will either break them or strengthen their motivation to work even more effectively. 85ga. Sebastian and his colleagues may soon become the official delegates of the company and that's why they have to be constantly observed and assessed. 85gb. They are to officially represent the firm and underwrite full liability for all their actions. 85gc. The aim of their endeavours (endeavors) is to solve social conflicts by peaceful means. 85gd. The actions they will be undertaking will decide about the fate of the company's employees and about the public image of the firm they represent. 85ge. Before Sebastian and his friends are appointed as official delegates, their professional demeanour (demeanor) and all previous activities must be scrupulously evaluated. 85gf. The purpose of the evaluation is to pinpoint the exact moral values which (that) direct them when they make their decisions. 85gg. It must also be	arrived to collect his trophy the foxes got the injured bird and carried it away, somewhere. 85p. The tailback which (that) formed along the underpass stopped Mike on his way home and he didn't watch another episode of his favourite (favorite) sitcom. 85r. Nobody from the outside knows when and where the annual fancy-dress party for the underworld barons and their families takes place, but apparently this year it will be held somewhere in the tropics.
